

Strategic Plan 2022-2025
Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation Human Resources Development Working Group (APEC HRDWG)

2020 APEC Putrajaya Vision 2040

We will intensify inclusive human resource development as well as economic and technical cooperation to better equip our people with the skills and knowledge for the future.

2021 Aotearoa Plan of Action

Evaluation of progress: All our people are well equipped with the skills and knowledge they need to adapt and thrive now and in the future.

Individual Actions:

- Economies will implement policies to ensure equity and inclusion in education and human resource development, including life-long skills development and social protection measures, to provide for widespread participation in the digital economy, inclusive labour markets, and to support swift recovery from economic shocks.

Collective Actions: Economies will:

- Innovate and exchange expertise on skills and human resource development, and cooperate on sharing lessons and best practice in these areas;
- Cooperate to improve the collection and analysis of skills and labour market data sets, including to better assess and bridge skills gaps and mismatches between skills and employment;
- Strengthen economic and technical cooperation to intensify capacity building in inclusive human resource development;
- Cooperate on the development of skills and literacy for all to accelerate the digital transformation of the region's economy, including by implementing APEC's Education Strategy and the APEC Framework on Human Resources Development in the Digital Age; and
- Build on existing APEC work on mutual recognition of qualifications to deepen and widen its coverage.

Introduction

The goal of human resources development in APEC is to promote the well-being of all people and achieve sustainable and inclusive economic growth in the region.

First established in 1990, HRDWG has played an important role in building the region's human capacity, including through its three networks, the Capacity Building Network (CBN), the Education Network (EDNET) and the Labour and Social Protection Network (LSPN). The working group implements initiatives on education, labor and capacity building to share knowledge, experience and best practices to strengthen human resources development across the region.

In this context and to ensure sustainable and inclusive growth of the Asia-Pacific region, HRDWG pursues actions under the direction of APEC Leaders, HRD Ministers, and Education Ministers [including the Putrajaya Vision 2040 (2020), Aotearoa Plan of Action (2021) and the APEC Education Strategy (2016) and Action Plan.

With these goals in mind, HRDWG works to make APEC Leaders', Education and HRD Ministers' visions a reality, using this strategic plan as our roadmap.

II. Mission Statement

The HRDWG's mission is to share knowledge, experience, and skills to strengthen human resource development and promote sustainable economic growth in the Asia-Pacific region.

III. Objectives

HRDWG has made significant progress in activities that facilitate the APEC region's human resources development through education, capacity building, and labor and social protection. A streamlined and focused set of objectives guide the three HRDWG networks in achieving the HRDWG mission:

- Develop 21st Century Knowledge and Skills For All
- Integrate HRD into the Global Economy
- Address the Social Dimensions of Globalization

HRDWG will operationalize these three objectives by:

- Strengthening the link among its networks and other fora
- Gathering and strengthening internal capacity and resources of HRD to work for Inclusive and Quality Education for All, Regional Economic Integration (REI), Social Dimensions of Globalization, Safeguarding the Quality of Life, Structural Reform and Human Security
- Building and strengthening HRDWG's self-sustainable support system
- Expanding the collaboration of HRDWG with other APEC Fora and relevant multilateral organizations
- Providing people in the Asia-Pacific region with 21st Century knowledge, competencies and skills, including soft skills, through education and training
- Promoting human resources development by strengthening research and building organizational capacity in public, private and not-for-profit sectors
- Fostering strong, flexible, inclusive and resilient labor markets and strengthening social protection and safety nets

IV. Critical Success Factors (also called Key Performance Indicators/deliverables)

In order to respond to priority areas in the Human Resources Development in the Asia-Pacific region, HRDWG has developed the HRDWG Strategic Plan 2021-25 to achieve its mission. HRDWG will work on the five overarching priority areas, which are critical success factors (also called key performance indicators/deliverables) with the following prioritized implementation schedule. They are:

1. Convening and holding of HRDWG Meetings, during the following economies' year of APEC: New Zealand (2021), Thailand (2022), United States (2023), Peru (2024) and Republic of Korea (2025);
2. Drafting, Endorsement and Submission of HRDWG Documents to SOM Steering Committee on ECOTECH (SCE);
3. Implementation of Follow-up actions to APEC Economic Leaders' and Ministers' Declarations and Mandates
4. Continuous Implementation of the HRDWG Projects;
5. Other areas of work such as Structural Reforms in Human Capacity Development in cooperation with the APEC Economic Committee (EC).

VI. Measure of the success of the identified objectives of the strategic plan.

Objectives	Priority Areas for Collaboration	Key Performance Indicators (KPIs)
Develop 21 st Century Knowledge and skills For All	Human Resources Development in the Digital Economy	Strengthened regional cooperation in human resources development and common policies among APEC economies in building human capital in the face of rapid technological change and risk mitigation regulations.
		By 2025, there is increased information sharing on best practices in teaching, learning, and digital learning, with an emphasis on promoting the acquisition of skills needed in the digital and post-pandemic age.
	COVID-19, 4 th Industrial Revolution and the Future of Work	Identified future skills and competencies among APEC economies to meet the need of emerging technologies and digitalization amidst the constraints on human interaction across the life-long learning continuum.
Integrate HRD into the Global Economy	Innovation and entrepreneurship in the digital age and environment	Assessed new forms of work and identified work opportunities arising from increased digitalization, including the growth of virtual work and the “gig economy”.
		Policies for restructuring and reorganization of firms including accelerated automation to adjust to the post-pandemic economic environment that will involve constraints on human interaction and risk mitigation regulations.
	Impacts of new technology and digitalization on the world of work	Assessed impact of structural adjustment brought about by automation and economic impacts of the pandemic on human resources development and labour supply (withdrawal of workers who are elderly or have pre-existing conditions, etc.).
Address the Social Dimensions of Globalization	Social protection in the changing world of work	Conducted sector-by-sector and gender-based analysis of jobs at risk of automation that factors in the “New Normal.”
		Conducted joint studies on new social risks (intensification of work, effects on health and safety, boundaries between work and private life, job precariousness, income uncertainty or discrimination) in order to inform new social protection policies and programs in the post-pandemic digital economy.
		Updated adequate social protection policies to adapt to new forms of employment, to ensure that social protection coverage for workers reflects diverse forms of employment; and promote access to social protection to all, including MSMEs, women and others with untapped economic potential.
